Rail firm to spend a billion

By Jack Asbery

HONG-KONG based firm MTR is set to take over the running of Basingstoke's train service – promising £1.2 billion of measures to improve journeys for passengers.

Together with First Group, MTR has been awarded the franchise for South West Trains for the next seven years, taking over from former operator Stagecoach.

The new franchise will come into force from August 20, with promises to improve services and provide passengers with faster and more comfortable trains.

The move has been criticised by trade union RMT, which said the Government has "refused to consider the public sector option".

Key features of the new contract include refurbished trains, more Sunday services, free wi-fi at stations and on board trains and investment in station improvements.

Jeremy Long, CEO of European business at MTR, said: "MTR is known across the world for the excellent quality of its rail services and we look forward to working with FirstGroup to provide a best-in-class travel experience for passengers in London and the south west.

"Together we will deliver a major programme of upgrades, including improvements to both rail services and customer experience, for passengers travelling across the South Western network."

The acquisition of the franchise by First MTR South Western Trains Limited comes at the cost of Stagecoach group losing a contract they have held for 20 years.

Stagecoach group chief executive Martin Griffiths said: "Over the past two decades we have delivered real improvements for our customers right across the network."

"That success has been built on fantastic people, detailed knowledge of the business and strong relationships with our stakeholders and railway partners."

"We will continue to work hard on our part to deliver a professional service and meet our obligations in the final months of our current franchise."

RMT's general secretary Mick Cash slammed the Government for the move,

One lucky dog will get to be in La Boheme

Furry-tale career is beckoning for pooch who stars in opera

DOES your dog have what it takes to be an opera star?

A Pavarotti-esque pooch is needed to appear in romantic opera La Boheme at The Anvil in Basingstoke next month.

Auditions are being held for a well-behaved small dog to appear in the production, while the owner will also need to be prepared to go onstage in costume.

Director and producer Ellen Kent said: "People say never work with children or animals but I love to do both."

"The first time was 20 years ago when my pet cat Holly Go-Lightly was in one of my productions and was an instant hit."

"When we last did La Boheme and asked local people to volunteer their pets it was a huge success. We even used a rescue dog once and found him dozens of new owners."

"We're a nation of animal lovers after all and I'm sure there is plenty of doggie talent out there."

La Boheme is set in Paris and focuses on the love between seamstress Mimi and poet Rodolfo.

To audition, send a photo of your dog to ellen@ellenkent.co.uk, including contact information as well as the breed, height, weight, age and name of the dog.

Young people have say on improving policing

By Adam Flinn

RECOMMENDATIONS to ensure young people get help with mental issues and to introduce cyber ambassadors in schools have been welcomed by Hampshire's police and crime commissioner Michael Lane.

Sixteen proposals were put forward by the youth commission following a consultation of 3,500 young people across Hampshire and the Isle of Wight.

They were asked what they would like to see on issues including mental health, substance misuse, cyber safety and relationships with authorities.

The recommendations were presented to Mr Lane at the commission's conference on Saturday.

Mr Lane said: "Over the past year members of my youth commission have worked hard to ensure that the voices of young people are heard on topical issues they find important."

"They have committed several hundred hours of their own time to volunteer to research and deliver improvements around policing and crime."

"The recommendations they have presented set out practical steps that once implemented could make a significant difference in areas of concern to young people."

"I look forward to working with the youth commission and our partners to take these recommendations forward."

Other recommendations included using young people to help develop substance misuse campaigns - particularly on social media - and creating more opportunities for people to get to know the police.

Youth commission member Marcia Tanyanyiwa said: "Of the four main areas of focus to choose from, mental health really caught my interest considering it is something that is not talked about but yet bothering a lot of people."

"By contributing towards getting rid of the stigma surrounding mental health, I have also developed a deeper understanding of it."

Katie Vincent added: "I chose cyber safety as my priority area as I feel that the rise in cyber related crimes and negative experiences faced by young people needs to be addressed."

"I believe that it is crucial for us to start highlighting some of the dangers online."

To see the full findings of the commission, go to hampshire-pec.gov.uk/youthcommission.

Joint administrator Steve Absolom said: "While it is always pleasing to preserve a significant number of jobs, sadly a number of redundancies are to be made at closed stores."

Will cannot wait to have egg and soldiers after treatment

By Jack Asbery

A BASINGSTOKE schoolboy battling a brain tumour will finally be able to enjoy his favourite meal of boiled egg and soldiers.

Eight-year-old Will Cater, a pupil at St Mark's Church of England Primary School in Hatch Warren, is currently undergoing chemotherapy in order to prevent the growth of a tumour on his optic nerve.

As the treatment affects his immune system Will is unable to eat foods that carry the risk of infection such as soft-boiled eggs.

"He cried all the way home from the hospital when he heard he wouldn't be allowed to have a 'dippy' egg and soldiers while he was having chemotherapy," said Will's mother Emma.

"The treatment is due to finish in May and he can't wait to be able to eat one again."

Will was diagnosed with a brain tumour at the age of five after having already spent three years under the care of an eye care specialist due to poor vision.

In 2014, he was referred to Southampton for further tests, which involved measuring the signal between his eyes and his brain through electrodes fixed to his head.

They quickly revealed an obvious gap between stimuli and the messages reaching Will's brain.

An MRI scan was carried out which showed that Will had a non-malignant tumour wrapped around the nerves behind his eye and a further MRI scan in August 2015 revealed it was growing.

"He cried all the way home from hospital when he heard he wouldn't be allowed to have a dippy egg and soldiers during chemo"

However, Will has completed an 18-month chemotherapy course that has successfully kept the tumour from growing.

Emma shared her story through The Brain Tumour Charity in support of Brain Tumour Awareness Month.

She hopes it will help to draw attention to the need for more research into brain tumours as well as highlight the symptoms and effects of the disease.

Will is the second child at St Marks to be diagnosed with brain tumour in recent years.

Five-year-old Jayden Wilson died from a highly aggressive form of the disease in December 2014.

Emma Tingley, director of services and influencing for The Brain Tumour Charity, said: "Will's story shows how important it is that brain tumours of all types are diagnosed early, to reduce the risk of long-term health damage wherever possible."

"We are immensely grateful to Emma for sharing her family's experience in support of Brain Tumour Awareness Month and to help others affected by brain tumours to feel less isolated."

The Brain Tumour Charity funds vital research into brain tumours as well as providing support to those affected and raising awareness of the disease.

Brain Tumour Awareness Month runs throughout March.

Appeal after man, 75, is assaulted over dog

POLICE are appealing for witnesses after an assault on a 75-year-old man in the Popley area of Basingstoke on the morning of March 20.

The attack happened between 9.05am and 9.40am in Abbey Road.

As the victim walked along the road a dog barked at him and he shouted back towards the dog.

He then became aware that someone was following him.

The man began to run before he felt himself being pushed from behind causing him to fall unconscious.

The victim was then taken to hospital where he was treated for a broken collarbone and wrist along with cuts to his head.

Detective Constable Brent Williams, of Basingstoke CID, said: "While we are treating this as an isolated incident, the victim did sustain significant injuries and we are keen to hear from anyone."

Anyone with information should contact detective constable Brent Williams, at Basingstoke CID, on 101, quoting 44170104118.

'No imminent terror threat to the county'

By Adam Flinn

HAMPSHIRE Constabulary is reviewing its security following last week's terrorist attack in Westminster that left four people dead.

Chief Constable Olivia Pinkney issued a statement the following morning of last Wednesday's attack saying that the force would be looking at its security measures.

However she stressed that there was no imminent threat to the region.

She said: "Our thoughts are with the families, friends and colleagues of those killed and seriously injured as a result of the events in London."

"As is standard procedure whenever an incident like this happens, whether in the UK or abroad, we are reviewing our security procedures and resources to ensure that they are appropriate and if any changes need to be made."

"At this time we are satisfied our plans are robust but we will continue to review the situation and follow any national guidance."

"There is currently no specific intelligence to indicate an immediate threat to any locations within the UK, including Hampshire.

"We understand that the events in London may cause people to worry but we would renew our advice to our communities to be alert but not to be alarmed."

Khalid Massood killed three pedestrians and injured around 50 others after speeding down the pavement in a car on Westminster Bridge.

He then approached the Houses of Parliament and fatally stabbed a policeman, before being shot dead shortly afterwards.

Those who died were PC Keith Palmer, London residents Aysha Frade and Leslie Rhodes, and American tourist Kurt Cochran, as well as Massood.

Metropolitan Police are continuing to investigate what happened, with a number of people being arrested in London and Birmingham.

Hampshire's police and crime commissioner Michael Lane also added his condolences.

He said: "This attack sadly saw a number of people killed and seriously injured. They, their families and all those affected by this are in my thoughts."

"As police and crime commissioner, I am regularly briefed and seek reassurance that we have the resources and procedures in place to deliver the operational responses the community needs to keep us safe."

"As for all major incidents, Hampshire Constabulary will review this incident for lessons to be learned and tuning of their plans."

Estate is spruced up after suggestions by residents

WORK to improve the look of a Basingstoke housing estate has been welcomed by residents.

Kings Furlong has been spruced up by housing association Sovereign after improvements were put forward by people living there.

This included replacing old concrete walls with new fencing, swapping large trees with smaller ones and repaving the area.

Tim Purr, housing officer at Sovereign, said: "Residents helped us to identify Kings Furlong as an area which could benefit from estate improvement work, and now it has finished it's great to see the difference it's made.

"By creating more defined garden areas with new planting and fencing we hope we can make the area an even better place to live for residents."

Kings Furlong resident Kayleigh Styles said: "I've had an entire garden put in where there was none.

"I've already been out in the garden planting and I'm looking forward to getting out there a lot more in the summer."

Joy for drivers as roundabout works finished ahead of time

By Jack Asbery

THE £4million scheme to widen the A30 Winchester Road roundabout was completed on Monday, three months ahead of schedule.

The roundabout has been widened along with the approach roads to accommodate more traffic, while new traffic lights were put in and upgrading the existing drainage network done to ensure less congestion during peak times.

"These improvements will have a considerable positive impact by improving journey times, road safety and access for local developments such as the proposed 3,400 new homes and local services at the Manydown site," said the council's executive member for environment and transport, Rob Humby.

"We have worked very hard to complete this major scheme ahead of programme and ensure disruption was kept to a minimum for those travelling through the area.

"This project has involved the county council investing money early on in preparation work, to reduce the duration of the road works and minimise disruption by keeping traffic lanes open during peak times.

"However, the intensity of improvements has caused some disruption to local residents and I would like to take this opportunity to thank them for their help and patience while these works were carried out."

The A30 is a key access route for Basingstoke, helping to link the town centre and other transport links to the wider strategic road network. The scheme received a significant level of funding from the Enterprise M3 local enterprise partnership.

Chairman Geoff French said: "We are really pleased to see this project delivered ahead of schedule and within budget.

"The scheme supports a key aspect of our strategy for growth, which includes safeguarding Basingstoke's economic vibrancy and facilitating high value activities by improving the road networks for business prosperity."

Award-winning nurse 'has best job in world'

By Samantha McGregor

A DEDICATED nurse has described having "the best job in the world" after being honoured for her work on medical research into Parkinson's Disease.

Debbie Dellafera won the outstanding health professional prize at the National Institute for Health Research awards in Southampton.

Debbie works as a clinical research practitioner across Hampshire Hospitals.

She specialises in Parkinson's Disease, stroke care, long-term conditions and frailty, and is responsible for enrolling patients into research studies looking at new and alternative ways of treating these conditions.

She also supports patients throughout the process, ensuring they understand the trial and get the best possible experience.

Debbie was nominated for the award after recruiting more than 40 patients suffering from Parkinson's Disease into a new trial.

Her efforts ensured that Hampshire Hospitals was the top recruiting trust nationwide over the past year.

Debbie said: "I think I have got the best job in the world because by helping to make this research happen, I can really change things."

"It was a good night at the awards, but I was shocked when my name was read out."

"I did not expect it at all, because so many people there are doing such great work."

"To win was amazing and I am really proud. It's a real honour."

Debbie is a key member of the Wessex Leadership team for stroke research, helping to ensure high quality levels of research across the region.

Hampshire Hospitals had two other finalists at the ceremony.

Research nurse Liz Happle was shortlisted for the outstanding health professional award.

Meanwhile the haemophilia research team, led by consultant haematologists Dr Savita Rangarajan, Dr Sarah Mangles and Dr Tamara Everington were finalists in the excellence in delivery of commercial research category.

Debbie Dellafera is presented with the Outstanding Health Professional award by Professor Nick Lemoine, medical director of NIHR Clinical Research Network

New scheme to stamp out fly-tipping

A STRATEGY to tackle the problem of fly-tipping in Hampshire has been adopted by the county council.

It aims to educate residents and businesses about their responsibilities when disposing of waste, better management of incidents and cross-border working with neighbouring authorities.

A dedicated resource in collaboration with Trading Standards would also be set up to focus on improving reporting and intelligence to increase the number of prosecutions.

Rob Humby, the council's executive member for environment, said: "For too long, some people feel they have been able to get away with blighting the countryside while leaving the council taxpayer to pick up the bill."

"The majority of Hampshire's residents have had to suffer from the actions of an irresponsible minority."

"A key strand of this work will be co-ordinating with partner organisations to publicise a few simple steps that householders and businesses can take to have peace of mind that any waste taken away by contractors is being done so legally and responsibly, and doesn't end up fly-tipped."

Town in top 10

BASINGSTOKE: National Express has published the top-10 destinations its customers visited on Mother's Day.

Basingstoke was the tenth most popular town on the list, which was formed from advanced bookings figures.

Bournemouth topped the list, with Cheltenham and Swindon completing the top three. Fellow Hampshire town Fareham was ninth.

'Giant sing' fun

BASINGSTOKE: More than 60 schools and 5,500 children from across Hampshire took part in the 'Giant Sing' at The Anvil in Basingstoke earlier this month.

There were eight performances between March 7 and 14, where children sang songs they had been rehearsing since the autumn.

Dad runs to say 'thanks for treating my son'

Norman Adcock with members of staff from the Basing unit, which treated his son Matthew

A MARATHON running grandfather has raised cash for cancer patients as a thank you for looking after his son.

Norman Adcock, 65, of Kempshott, Basingstoke, completed a half marathon starting and finishing at the front doors of the Basingstoke and North Hampshire Hospital to raise money for the specialist oncology unit.

Mr Adcock took on the half-marathon challenge as a way of thanking staff on the Basing unit.

His son, Matthew, is currently in remission from leukaemia, having received chemotherapy at the unit.

Mr Adcock said: "It was very cold and windy and I was running into a wicked headwind all the way along Popley Way, right at the end of the run."

"But I got on okay and my family were there to meet me at the end, which made it all worthwhile."

Mr Adcock added: "All things being well, Matthew is on the road to recovery, so I just wanted to do something to say thank you to the hospital."

"The staff were all really good to him while he was being treated."

So far Mr Adcock has raised more than £150.

Firm scoops £14m MoD deal

By Adam Flinn

A BASINGSTOKE technology company has been awarded a £14million contract for medical monitors to the Ministry of Defence.

Remote Diagnostic Technologies (RDT), in Ashwood Park, was chosen to provide 900 Tempus Pro monitors, which will enable the military to manage medical incidents in remote locations.

Twenty new jobs have been created on top of the 60 people already employed.

Graham Murphy, chief executive officer of RDT, said: "We are incredibly proud to be providing the Tempus Pro to our armed forces, who do such important work to keep us all safe."

"One of the reasons the Tempus Pro is being adopted by the UK and many other NATO militaries is because of its unique ability to be enhanced in the field as new technologies emerge or needs evolve."

"The world is an ever-changing place and this flexibility is important to all our customers."

complex vital signs together with transmittance of the data to ensure continuity and accuracy of the patient's records.

Before awarding the contract, the monitor faced a year-long intensive evaluation when it was deployed and tested in harsh conditions.

Defence minister Harriett Baldwin said: "Our armed forces serve with incredible commitment and bravery, and the new Tempus Pro monitor will ensure they receive the best possible care and treatment should they be wounded or taken ill."

"Backed by our rising defence budget and our £178bn equipment plan, our investment in these cutting-edge medical monitors demonstrates how we are working with our NATO allies to provide lifesaving equipment to our frontline personnel."

Basingstoke MP Maria Miller said: "RDT is a groundbreaking company and its success demonstrates the strong entrepreneurial, engineering and technological talent available in Basingstoke. This talent pool supports a thriving hub of high growth, high tech businesses."

The Tempus Pro monitor being used during a training exercise by the MoD

SOFTENED WATER 24/7

A TwinTec water softener will give you luxury you can see and feel

How water softeners work

Water softeners protect your home and improve the quality of the water by removing the lime scale found naturally in hard water.

About the TwinTec S3

Non electric, efficient and compact enough to fit under the kitchen sink. Guaranteed softened water for your home and family.

By utilising two cylinders, the TwinTec water softener is able to provide you with luxuriously soft water all day, every day. Each cylinder is able to work independently. When the optimal amount of water has passed through a cylinder it regenerates, meaning while one cylinder is regenerating, the other is supplying the home with soft water. Meanwhile you have a continuous supply of softened water.

Benefits of soft water

- Improved efficiency
- Reduced cleaning costs
- Longer life appliances
- Save on heating
- Kinder on skin and hair
- Reduces limescale

Unexpected costs? Pension doesn't go far enough? Consider a Lifetime Mortgage.

Unexpected costs happen to all of us: new boilers, car problems, increased bills and required refurbishments to name a few. When you're young and employed it can be difficult to meet these costs, but as we age the availability to borrow reduces and reliance on pensions can mean financial difficulty.

For homeowners over 55, mortgage options have become significantly limited but there are products available. Lifetime Mortgages can help release the equity stored in the property for daily living costs or that urgently needed new kitchen, as well as assisting customers trapped in 'Interest Only' mortgages or nearing the end of the mortgage term with no standard options available.

"Our customers don't always have the option to downsize, and the cost of moving can mean that they feel trapped and financially suffocated." says Michael Usher, founder and owner of Michael Usher Mortgage Services. "Our Lifetime Mortgage Advice service helps potential applicants to identify whether they are suited for a Lifetime Mortgage and make sure they understand everything involved."

Lifetime Mortgages help people who want to remain in their homes without the hassle or complications that arise from moving house or downsizing.

Equity is accessed from the property and repaid when the house is sold. Lenders offering these products include Aviva, Legal & General, LV and Just Retirement.

With several qualified and experienced Lifetime Mortgage Advisers, Michael Usher Mortgage Services, based at the end of the one way system, is open Monday to Friday (Saturday by appointment only). Established in 2001, Michael leads a team of 25 staff offering Mortgage Advice, Will Writing & Estate Planning and Sales & Lettings Management.

"From the beginning I wanted to create a business that survived on its reputation and I think we're doing that. Most of our customers are returning or referred to us and our reviews across Check a Professional and Trustpilot show our customers feel they're working with a company that has a real passion for helping their customers."

If you're interested in knowing more about Lifetime Mortgages or have any other Mortgage questions, contact Sean Usher or Joe Capon on 01256 637000 or drop into the office at 35a Winchester Street, Basingstoke, RG21 7EE.

Fast-track your career into the healthcare profession ...work as a phlebotomist!

This May sees the return of Geopace Training to Oxford with their two day phlebotomy training course.

An increasing demand for skilled healthcare professionals has led to a shortage of allied healthcare workers, especially phlebotomists – the skilled healthcare professionals who take your blood. Demand is high within hospitals as well as many clinics and surgeries and offers a golden opportunity for that “longed for” career change! If you have good people skills, good manual dexterity and like the idea of working in a busy hospital or clinic, a phlebotomist job may be just the right job for you!

Many people enter this profession when they are looking for a career change or a fresh start. Phlebotomists often work part-time (mornings) but some do work full-time as well as weekends and holidays. Blood samples are usually collected before mid-day and then analysed in the Path Labs in the afternoon.

“We train people from all walks of life and all ages,” explains Jennie Eagleton, office manager. “We’ve had shop assistants, receptionists, beauticians and dental nurses, as well as telesales staff, unemployed, school leavers and the retired,” says Jennie.

Once on the healthcare career ladder ambition often drives people to progress to working in the labs and to other specialised departments. Internal promotion is much easier once you are ‘on the ladder’ and have some experience.

Many hundreds of Geopace trainees are now working as phlebotomists and a few have even chosen to work abroad where there is often a shortage and growing demand for this specialised skill.

If you like the idea of a career in healthcare then this may be just the job for you! Training takes place over two full days and culminates in the award of a nationally recognised and accredited certificate. “We practice on artificial arms,” says Jennie. “And all our students have a lot of fun learning. We get a great deal of satisfaction when we later learn that they are working in their local hospital or GP Surgery.”

If you would like to know more about phlebotomy as a career or to book a place on the course in Oxford (or Basingstoke) visit the Geopace Training website at www.geopace.com

Some wise advice for siblings

By James Richings

STEVEN Lee's popular children's book Don't Dribble on the Dragon will be brought to life when it arrives The Haymarket on Tuesday, April 11.

Brothers Tom and Jack do everything together. But when Tom starts teething, Jack gets annoyed due to his brother's constant dribbling, and makes him promise not to drool over their friend dragon.

Steven's own children were the inspiration behind the show and the author hopes his production hits home with parents, as Don't Dribble on the Dragon focuses on the relationships between siblings.

"The story was written about my son Jack, and I play Jack in the show," Steven told the Observer.

"However, I should clarify that, in the topsy-turvy way of things, when I wrote the book the show is based on, I couldn't get the name Jack to rhyme the way I wanted it to.

"So the character in the show inspired by my son is actually called Tom and Tom is Jack's younger brother."

The author has been a regular visitor to the Wote Street theatre for nearly 20 years, where his shows have gone to be great successes.

His most notable shows were The Witches Bogey (2003), with The Haymarket being one of the first theatres in the UK to show the musical.

This was followed up with How the Koala Learnt to Hug (2009), which toured the UK for just over four years.

"The most important thing that the audience can expect is to be able to go home afterwards feeling warm, happy and thoroughly entertained," Steven said.

"Just like sports people can be lifted to greater heights when in front of a supportive crowd, so actors do their best when performing for a fun, responsive and appreciative audience.

"Basingstoke audiences are some of the best in the country and we make a point of doing everything we can to earn the amazing support they always give us."

He added: "There is a message and it's one about sibling rivalry and how that can be overcome by kindness and by recognising the overarching importance of family.

"But I sometimes think we work too hard in the theatre looking for messages and hidden meanings when really the most important thing is to have a good time."

It starts at 2.30pm and tickets cost £12.

Expect some nasty stuff on stage

A GOOD old fashioned thriller with plenty of plot twists and, of course, a murder.

That's what audiences at Basingstoke's Haymarket can expect next week when The Sound of Murder can be seen and heard.

Charles Norbury is a children's book writer who not only doesn't like children but is unlovable, has no friends, is arrogant, controlling and cruel.

His unloved wife has met someone else and in their Surrey cottage a tape recorder has been left on during a conversation between her and her lover in which he plots to murder Charles.

And for actor Marcus Hutton who plays Charles it is this shared experience between the actors and the audience being able to hear the tale unfolding that holds the key to theatre.

He said: "I think most actors like the immediacy of a live audience. It really is a shared experience between the actors and the audience. And to hear a gasp or a laugh from an appreciative audience is manna for all actors."

"I like that performing in a play is slightly different each night, and that you get to have lots of goes at it."

The production is intense and as Marcus says, 'there's some deliciously nasty stuff from me' for audiences to enjoy.

He added: "I hope they will have been entertained first and foremost, and will have enjoyed playing the thriller guessing game as the story unfolds."

"Beyond that there is real substance to the play as there is a thorough examination of a toxic relationship at its centre."

"I think that audiences will also appreciate that we have come a long way with our attitudes to divorce in the past 60 years."

"The play is set in 1960, when divorces were hard to obtain, and there was still a great deal of stigma attached to unmarried parenting."

Marcus is making a return trip to Basingstoke for The Sound of Murder having first performed in the town 27 years ago, since then he has featured in a wide variety of TV shows and films including long-running soap Brookside and an episode of Midsomer Murders in 2014.

He has some wise words for any aspiring actors - diversify, be proactive and don't wait for the jobs to come to you. He added: "To be an actor you need the hide of a rhinoceros and the sensitivity of a butterfly."

Marcus can be seen in The Sound of Murder from April 5 to 8. Tickets start from £19, concessions available. For details go to anvilarts.org.uk

Keeping you motoring for over 30 years

By Tony Yates

WE all know that the original Range Rover is the best 4x4 on the market and it has been this way for many years.

But as a motoring journalist this does tend to cause me a bit of a problem every time I test a newer version of this incredible machine. Because I always end up writing the same final sentence that I did when I tested the previous model – 'the Range Rover is utterly brilliant in every single way'.

Now, I know you won't all agree because over the last few years, we have been constantly banging on about saving the planet so much that suddenly everybody is wanting something a little bit smaller and economical.

So, for all you people who don't want a full size Range Rover, but instead want something a little bit smaller, then you are in luck because this week I just happen to be testing the Evoque HSE Dynamic.

Power and Efficiency

My test car was fitted with a brilliant 180HP 2.0L TD4 diesel engine and a 9-speed automatic transmission. It has 430Nm of torque, more than enough grunt to pretty much pull anything that takes your fancy.

Fuel consumption is also good, achieving around 49mpg. Flat out you can expect a maximum speed of 121mph and a 0-62 time of around 9.7sec.

For those of you who are all about emissions, the Evoque easily comes in at around 149g/km, which will help you save a few more pennies in road tax.

On & Off-Road

The Evoque does off-road brilliantly! No matter how rubbish you are on the muddy stuff it just keeps going.

All you really have to do is arrive at a muddy field, press a few buttons and off you go. It really is that simple. It's the same when you have the Evoque on the tarmac too.

On the road, the Evoque is a peach to drive. There is plenty of feedback through the wheel, and with those 20-inch wheels it is glued firmly to the road without impacting on ride comfort or overall refinement.

As I said, it's just brilliant.

Safety and Technology

The Evoque HSE also comes with a host of significantly enhanced features including xenon headlamps, heated windscreen, rain-sensing windscreen wipers, front and rear parking sensors, In Control touch navigation with 10.2-inch touchscreen, DAB radio, Meridian 10-speaker sound system, lane departure warning and rear view camera.

There are side curtain, driver and front passenger airbags, autonomous emergency braking, terrain response, hill descent control and dynamic stability control.

As for the interior, you get nearly everything you would expect from a full size Range Rover inside the Evoque – such as comfortable and luxurious seating as well as an interior made from some of the finest quality materials that you just wouldn't find in a normal car.

To Sum Up

The Range Rover Evoque is utterly brilliant in every single way. Price from: £43,200 OTR

It'll pull pretty much anything you fancy...

Promotion chasers on rampage

BASINGSTOKE RFC played host to a promotion chasing Eastleigh at the weekend and the visitors showed just how much they wanted it as they thrashed the home side 31-0.

In the final minutes of play, James Boyce scored his second try of the game when he ran in unchallenged under the posts to complete the win.

Eastleigh opened the scoring early on when Adam Gallagher ran through a gap on the left-hand side and later Jack Berry increased the travelling side's lead through good ball handling down the right side.

Leading in the second half, Eastleigh took advantage of Basingstoke's mistakes and James Boyce stole the ball when Basingstoke lofted it wide to score.

Scrum-half Sean Hayes added Eastleigh's penultimate try after lots of space was created by Paul Fudio and Will Todd, giving him plenty of room to go for the points.

Hartley's celebrations put on hold

HARTLEY Wintney's champions parade will have to wait a little longer after they suffered a rare defeat, losing 1-0 at home to Horley at the weekend.

Horley scored the only goal of the afternoon through Kyle Hough, who received a low cross from Mark Bevan and went for goal. His first attempt was blocked but he managed to convert the rebound.

From there, Horley became an impenetrable fortress.

The away side could have had an equaliser in the 65th minute through Adam New who fired a close range shot over the bar from a Dean Stow free kick.

Hartley Wintney will now have to look to their Saturday clash against Chertsey in order to gain the vital point they need to bring home the title for the second successive season.

Partridge swoops to clinch 'Stoke victory

By Jack Asbery

MATT Partridge scored the winning goal early in the first half as Basingstoke Town won 1-0 away at St Ives on Saturday.

Sam Deadfield was instrumental in the centre of the park delivering some dangerous balls into the home box.

It was his free-kick that led to the only goal of the game when his cross was met by Joe Gater at the far post, but the ball came back off the cross-bar to the feet of Partridge who converted from close range.

With only one point separating the two sides in the table both were hard to break down, with their goalkeepers having few saves to make.

It was the home side that had the first chance of the game when Dubi Ogbonna and Tom McGowan exchanged passes before McGowan burst into the box.

He scuppered the scoring opportunity when he looked to pass to a teammate in the centre rather than go for goal himself.

At the other end, St Ives goalkeeper Tim Trebes was called into action when he blocked a fierce drive from Aaron Jarvis, who capitalised on a Lee Chaffey slip, which allowed the Basingstoke forward a run on the centre of goal.

Six minutes from the break, Trebes was called into action again when Nanu Owusu was brought down by Liam McDervitt in a rash challenge that led to a Basingstoke free kick in a dangerous area of the pitch.

Owusu took the free-kick himself and the ball was headed for the top corner from a deflection before Trebes extended himself full-length to block the shot.

In the second half, St Ives enjoyed a promising 20 minutes as they led an all-out attack.

The home side nearly had a chance when Basingstoke stopper Kieran Greene made a poor goal kick straight to St Ives' Danny Kelly.

He picked out a run from Jordan Jarold whose deflected shot went out for a corner - the first of three dangerous ones for St Ives.

The home side had one final chance at goal through Matt Wright who found the ball at his feet from a corner, but he could not react fast enough to score before it was cleared.

Narrow defeat

HOCKEY: Basingstoke Hockey Club's men's 1sts narrowly lost out in a high scoring match to end their season against Fareham 2nds on Saturday.

Meanwhile, the ladies' 1sts completed their season with a 3-0 victory against Buckingham.

Beaten again

FOOTBALL: Whitchurch United's difficult season continued as they were beaten 3-0 at home to Brockenhurst on Saturday afternoon.

Mixed weekend in play-off campaign

By Jack Asbery

BASINGSTOKE Bison had a mixed weekend as they continued their play-off campaign.

A narrow 4-3 defeat against Milton Keynes Lightning on Saturday was followed up by a 3-1 victory over Swindon Wildcats on Sunday.

Bison made the trip to Milton Keynes on Saturday for the last meeting between the two sides in Buckinghamshire, ahead of Lightning's move into the Elite League.

The home side went ahead at 2:29 in the first shot of the game through Antil Holli and a minute later Mikolaj Lopuski doubled their lead.

Tom Carlton added a third in the seventh minute to make the score 3-0 but this time Bison responded and managed to pull a goal back.

However, Lightning quickly regained form and in the 15th minute Frankie Bakriik scored Lightning's fourth goal.

In the third period, Joe Miller managed to add another goal to make the game 4-2 and not long after Ciaran Long scored to make it 4-3, leaving only a goal in it.

But Bison could not find a way to level the score despite their valiant fightback, leaving Lightning to their home victory.

The following day, Bison played host to the Swindon Wildcats.

They quickly went ahead on 7:11 through Derek Roehl, who fired an inch-perfect shot glove side just wide enough to beat the goalie but still hit the back of the net.

But the Wildcats quickly responded and on 9:27 they equalised through Sam Bullas, who took advantage of a rare defensive error from Bison and tapped in.

In the second period, Bison took back the lead just before the half-hour mark when Tomas Karpov scored after catching the rebound from a Ciaran Long shot, leaving the home side 2-1 up and the end of the second period.

And in the final minute of play, Bison scored their winner through Long when he dragged Stevie Lyle out of position to fire home round him and ensure victory.

It comes after Bison thrashed Hull Pirates 7-0 in their first play-off fixture last week.

Town set for Farnborough ground-share

BASINGSTOKE Town look set for a ground share with Farnborough for next season as they hope to sell off their existing home at the Camrose for redevelopment.

The club issued a statement on Tuesday night saying a provisional agreement had been reached with Farnborough for 2017/18.

An FA deadline means the club has to state where it intends to play football for the following season by March 31.

It comes after Basingstoke earlier this month said its two options for a new stadium within the town had fallen through.

Club CEO David Knight said: "Everyone at the club who has been involved in the decision-making process about its future has been working hard to find a new ground in the town or borough."

"Farnborough is considered to be the best ground-share option, particularly because its high quality facilities will enable our first team manager Terry Brown to retain and attract the quality of players that he needs as part of the ongoing work to deliver long-term progress and success."

Mr Knight added that the club had also entered into discussions with Whitchurch United over a long-term ground-share, with the aim of returning to the borough as soon as possible.
